

CURRICULUM PLANNING AND IMPLEMENTATION

Al Shifa College of Pharmacy has put in place a clear procedure to guarantee the development and execution of its curriculum. The Kerala University of Health Sciences (KUHS), Thrissur, the Pharmacy Council of India (PCI), are just a few of the regulatory councils that the university closely abides by. Before the start of each academic year, the principal meets with the Curriculum Committee (CC) to distribute the curriculum work plan to the instructors. The academic calendar is meticulously scheduled to coincide with Kerala University of Health Sciences Thrissur's academic calendar. The academic calendar includes all the information regarding the dates of internal exams, estimated dates for university exams, and holidays announced by KUHS. For Pharm D programmes, there are three required internal tests (sessional examinations) and two for B Pharm and M Pharm. To keep stakeholders informed, the academic calendar and timetables are posted on notice boards and websites. Every sessional exam has a uniform syllabus that is distributed, communicated to students beforehand, and administered appropriately. Term papers, unit tests, quizzes, online platforms, audiovisuals, chalk talks, charts, models, tutorial classes, and laboratory sessions assisted by the use of sophisticated tools are all used in theory sessions to attain pedagogy. In addition to the regular timetable, tutorial classes have their own dedicated time slot. Students are assessed on their performances, analytical abilities, and oral exams during practical hours. To support co-curricular and extracurricular activities, a number of committees and clubs, including those focused on literature, sports & cultural nature, anti-ragging, libraries, research, training placement and alumni associations, and research, are in operation. The institute arranges field trips, industry visits and seminars to learn about cutting-edge machinery and procedures; The B Pharm degree curriculum now includes a choice-based credit system and practice school courses. In the eighth semester, students can select two domains from a list of eight domains, and in the seventh semester, they can choose a practice school subject to work on for 150 hours and submit a report on.
